ALVAH G. HAYES--HEADMASTER

Seniors

You are about to enter a new phase of life. It is well for you, at this point, to list those assets which you have at hand to assist you in living a successful, satisfying and productive life. And should you do this, you would, without hesitation, probably list integrity, poise, tact, intelligence, energy, and so on; but I venture to say that you would probably omit what, to me, seems to be one of the most important assets of youth; that asset is TIME.

With TIME at your disposal all things are possible; without it, nothing is possible. It is the most valuable thing in the world, in that it cannot be replaced. The real tragedy is that realization of its importance comes to many only after it is too late to do much about it.

I believe it was Benjamin Franklin who said: "Do not squander time, for it is the stuff life is made of." It isn't necessary to look far for illustrations of men who put their time to good use. The Wright brothers, during their spare time away from their bicycle shop, created the airplane. Thomas Edison, a telegrapher by trade, invested his spare time in the study of electricity, and by so doing, created an entire new world of light. William Shakespeare's regular job was that of theatrical manager, but during his hours away from his regular work, he trained himself to become one of the most gifted writers of the ages.

TIME is your own. It may be worth anything, or it may be worth nothing, depending on how you control its use. You may kill time, waste time or use time, but you can never regain it. The unexpired time at your command is your greatest wealth. Like all wealth, it may be dissipated or it may be made productive. Each of you must make the decision as to how YOUR time will be used.

In concluding this brief message to you as Seniors, I challenge each of you to allocate your time in such a way that, say forty years from now, you may look back with no regrets, and look forward to the future with confidence and satisfaction. Good luck to each of you.

★ CLASS SONG ★

Farewell our Alma Mater,
Our hearts pour forth our thanks;
For we are now prepared to fight
In the world's competing ranks.

We've found no sadness, but joy
As in your halls we've known,
Uniting love, and friendship
To last when youth has flown.

We've made our home within these walls,
And now we must go on,
But memories will linger still
When high school days are gone.

Acquainted for just one short year,
Our hearts with sadness fill;
And may the echo of our thanks
Remain when all is still.

FACULTY ADVISOR

As we, the Class of 1955, look back over the last four years, we realize how significant and eventful they have been. From the time we entered as freshmen up until the present, we have strived to attain the one goal placed above all others: maturity.

Our first step in organizing the class was the election of class officers. They were as follows: Michael Drummey, president; Larry Corcoran, vice-president; Roberta Bamford, secretary-treasurer.

Our first social event of the year was the annual Freshman-Senior Dance which was held on October 26, 1951. The money obtained from this dance was entered as our first deposit in our newly formed treasury, a treasury which eventually proved to be one of the largest in the history of the school.

On November 26, 1951, a very enjoyable assembly was put on by Chief Nee-da-beh. The Chief demonstrated different methods of calling geese, crows, and other animals. He also showed films of himself demonstrating the proper technique of fly-casting. To conclude the program, Chief Nee-da-beh and Viddie Knightly performed a spectacular Indian dance.

On December 17, 1951, another interesting and profitable assembly was held. Mr. Bert Hill, a representative of the J. W. Robinson Co., presented Mr. John Donovan, on behalf of the school, the keys to a 1952 Dodge four-door sedan. This assembly marked the beginning of the driver-training program in our school, a course which enabled many to learn the proper way of driving an automobile and the common courtesies of the road so often neglected by the average driver.

The annual Brooks-Johnson Scholarship examination was given to enable two qualified freshman boys to transfer to Brooks School at the end of the freshman year. The two winners were Michael Drummey and Leonard Perkins.

Thus, we climaxed our freshman year.

As sophomores, we elected Larry Corcoran as president, Maureen Smith as vice-president and Barbara Driscoll as secretary-treasurer.

That year we added a new member to both the faculty and the class, Reed Kingston Taylor, director of speech and dramatics, and Pat Dineen, a student from Lawrence High School.

Having removed the traditional "before" and "after" lunch period, the following new classes were added: music appreciation, speech, consumer education, and art in everyday life.

Since this was an election year, the school took part in a mock election. The results proved interesting for our selections coincided with those of the adults. Later on that year we were given the opportunity of watching the President's inaugural address. Three television sets were installed for this purpose.

On February 27, 1953, the annual Sophomore-Junior Dance was held. The proceeds from this affair were equally divided among the two class treasuries.

As juniors we re-elected Larry Corcoran as president of our class, Maureen Smith as vice-president, and Elsie Thomas as secretary-treasurer.

In a successful attempt to enrich our treasury we sold red and black Johnson pins to our classmates.

This year we welcomed two new teachers to our faculty. Miss Harriet Dunham began her stay with us by teaching problems of democracy, physical education and health, and by coaching the girls' basketball team. Mr. Harwood Steele began by teaching typewriting and junior business training in the commercial field, along with consumer education.

The school play, entitled "Curtain Going Up," featured three junior class members. Helen Marie McCarthy, Roberta Bamford, and Bob Kellan represented us well.

The motion picture, "Lost Boundaries," was shown to an audience of students in the hall at 2:00 p.m. in February of our junior year.

We enjoyed many interesting assemblies during the year. Among them were a polio assembly at which a movie was shown of Camp Sea Haven, Plum Island, Massachusetts, which is used for children stricken with polio, and an assembly at which members of the Registry of Motor Vehicles staff in Boston presented the town of North Andover with a Pedestrian Safety Award for the second consecutive year.

HISTORY

Valuable additions to our class this year were Carolyn Hawkes, who came to us from North Attleboro, Massachusetts, and Ann Farley, an English girl, who had been in the United States only one year when she entered Johnson High.

Helen Marie McCarthy won first prize in the annual Annie L. Sargent Memorial Speaking Contest with her recitation of "Lincoln, the Man of the People."

A wonderful way to end the social activities of our junior year was the Junior-Senior Prom. This year a new system of after-prom entertainment was inaugurated. After the actual prom everyone went to the Andover Country Club where we were served a delicious chicken-pie dinner. Following the dinner we enjoyed a program of professional talent, including Cindy Lord, a vocalist, with dancing afterwards.

Senior year marked the beginning of our last year in high school and the beginning of a new era in secondary schooling in North Andover. The Class of 1955 has the honor of being the first class to graduate from the beautiful new North Andover High School.

Our choice of class officers has proved to be excellent as evidenced by the fact that we are the wealthiest graduating class in North Andover's history. Bob Kellan served as president, Chuck Kettinger as vice-president, and Elsie Thomas as secretary-treasurer. Under the able leadership of our officers we sponsored many money-making projects during the year, the most successful of which were the Halloween Dance and bakery sale.

This year Mr. Howard Crozier, coach of the football and track teams, and Mr. William Larochelle, coach of the basketball and baseball teams, were added to our faculty.

In accordance with the change in the name of our school, the name of our school publication was changed from "Johnson Journal" to "North Andover High-Lites."

We have enjoyed many assemblies including a "House of Magic" program presented by General Electric, a talent show in which various students participated, a program broadcast over radio station WCCM in which the chorus sang several of Victor Herbert's famous songs, and a one-act play called, "Buried Treasure," presented by Speech 1-1.

The dedication of our new school was one of the high lights of our last year. Approximately forty senior girls and boys conducted groups of townspeople around the building after the dedication exercises.

Helen Marie McCarthy, Dot Hoessler, Maureen Cushing, Margaret Macklin, Bob Kellan, Kenny Rapacz, and Richard Nicosia all contributed to the success of the school play, "The Goose Hangs High," by performing their parts so well.

North Andover High School participated in the school exchange program in conjunction with Salem High, Salem, Massachusetts. Ruth Fessenden, Marilyn Smith, Helen Marie McCarthy, Richard Nicosia, and Bob Boutilier acted as our representatives.

The class elected Gerry Forgetta, Maureen Smith, and Fran Gillick to serve on the prom committee along with the class officers. Later, Joan Valliere, Dot Hoessler, and Jane Sargent were added to the committee. Elsie Thomas, Dot Hoessler, Ann Doherty, Corinne Smith, Kenny Rapacz, and Bob Kellan were chosen to select the class colors and motto.

We selected Bob Boutilier to be our Good Government Day Representative, and the class and faculty together chose Elsie Thomas as the recipient of the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award.

Mr. Hayes announced the class honors as follows: Helen Mooradkanian, valedictorian; Helen Marie McCarthy, salutatorian; and Dorothy Weingart, class essayist. We chose Bob Boutilier to be our class orator, and Corinne Smith and Bob Kellan to be the class marshals.

We, as a class, have been most fortunate in many ways during the last four years of high school. We should take time here to thank our teachers, for they have prepared us to "Climb though the rocks be rugged."

CLASS

The wind whistled eerily and the darkness was broken only by the glistening streak of our new 1968 rocket "Thunderbird," as it sped through the stratosphere in search of the planet North Andoveria, which was discovered and colonized by our own mad scientist, Dr. Jerry Smith.

Fearless and bold behind the controls were the expert pilot, Lt. Dan Doiron, and his able assistant co-pilot and prop-washer, Dave Gallsworth. The ship's doctor, Bob Kellan, and his pretty assistant, Bobbie Bamford, conscientiously cared for a passenger who had been taken ill with stratosphere sickness. Upon closer inspection we found him to be the world famous diplomat and politician, Rollie Russell.

As we neared our destination, a charming stewardess, whom we recognized to be Joni Tanski, dutifully fastened our atomic ray goggles. Upon descending from our flying vehicle which, as we later learned, was designed and manufactured by Professor R. W. Killen and Dr. Ray Maynard, noted physicists, we were greeted by a host of familiar faces.

Immediately placed at our disposal was Salemme's Supersonic Cab Service which provided a conducted tour of the planet.

In need of a bit of entertainment, we visited the "Green Cheesecake Dancehall," owned and operated by Ray Giglio, where the main attraction was "Sal Zahn, Queen of Adagio." Also on the program were Madame Mammino and her "Mambo Maniacs," a group which consisted of Janet Haight, Maryann Tymvakiewicz, and Jeanne Moran. Irene Lomazzo entertained with a few bars of "Oh Why, Oh Why Did I Ever Leave Ohio?" and her talented accompanist was none other than Ken Rapacz.

We then proceeded to the luxurious Hamel and Hamel Hotel where the lovely hostess, Norma Ackroyd, introduced us to many of the prominent guests. We spent an enjoyable evening with the syndicated columnist, Tom Hamilton, who informed us of the whereabouts of many of our classmates.

We were happy to learn that Ronnie and Joan (Boyle) Noone now operated a training school for inexperienced telephone conversationalists.

Hi Connell was making his fortune in South Africa introducing a new boogie beat to tribes of frustrated cannibals.

The McDowell-Wilcox Firm had just revolutionized the automobile industry by designing a muffler attachment that played "The Stars and Stripes Forever" in rhythm and blues.

Carolyn Hawkes was the foreign correspondent to Japan and handled all Japanese domestic affairs.

The comedy team of Mellian and Giard entertained on their own inter-planetary television program "The Hormel Ham Hour," starring Kay and Jean. As their special guests, they presented the Gillicks in "Basketball Bliss" with Frank and Pris, a fifteen minute serial describing a day in the lives of a romantic pair of retired athletes who meet the joys and heartbreaks of life while reminiscing about youth and soothing each other's Charley horses.

The announcer, Dick Nicosia, who prided himself on being found in every lady's kitchen each morning at 9:30, Monday through Friday, introduced a new product, Mother Macklin's Meatless Minestrone, a delicacy which, for over twenty years, has kept doctors in business everywhere.

Immediately following was the "Doherty Dance Party" with Ann's special guest, crooner and matinee idol, Ernie Harvey.

Upon continuing our tour we passed the Marilyn Smith Model Agency. On her staff were world renowned cover girls, Charlotte West, Lorraine Kozdras, and Dianne Riedel.

PROPHECY

After a tasty snack at Holleran's Happy Hashery where Skip DiMario was super chef in charge of dressing chickens, we met Dot Weingart, world famous breeder of blue ribbon Weingart Weiners, otherwise known as frankfurt hounds. She had taken her dog to Ventrillo's Veterinary where Kathy's new nurse, Peg Canty had just been put in charge of multiplication. Dot told us of the success of many of our friends.

Pat Dineen was now a lieutenant in the WAVES.

Bob Boutilier had become a civil engineer for the Coppeta Construction Company, builders of the widely traveled Creamy Way. Bob's wife and secretary, Ruth (Fessenden) Boutilier handled all his private affairs.

Elsie Thomas had recently gone into business giving advice to hen-pecked roosters. This solved the age-old problem of how to keep the old bird from flying the coop.

In passing the ball park we noticed Coach Larry:Corcoran briefing his team's captain, Chuck Kettinger. Chuck was to lead the Corcoran Wild Cats to victory over their rivals, the Elliot Elephants.

At the gate we met Dick Cole, president of the Cole Clipper Corp., the largest ship-building concern in North Andoveria, and his lovely secretary, Gail Ambiehl. They were on their way to attend the opening of academy award actress Helen Marie McCarthy in her new play "The Moose Hangs High," and invited us to accompany them. At intermission we were entertained by Ann Crawford and her "Crawdettes," a talented instrumental group whose success was due in part to its arranger and manager, John Glennie.

In leaving the theatre, we talked with Allen Mitchell, millionaire manufacturer of Mitchell's Musical Earmuffs for Tone-deaf Mermaids. Allen informed us that our old friend Joan Houldsworth, foremost fashion consultant, had acquired a contract to design tickle-proof feathers for nervous fan dancers.

Maureen Smith and Gerry Forgetta had just published their latest book, "Men, Their Natural Habitat, and How to Catch Them."

Bob Stamp handled the planet-to-planet route with his Friday fried fish specials.

The Driscoll-Cushing Finishing School for Dejected Debutantes flourished, while their counsellor of lively love life, Pat O'Neill, brought the school a thriving business.

Joan Valliere had become a huge success on Broadway as a ventriloquist with her dummy "George."

As we said goodbye to Allen, we decided to rent a rocket from the MacArthur Rocket Corp. There we met Dawn Pavledakes, who was Bob's chief woman test pilot. Dawn took us for a trial ride, and in passing over the planet, we noticed the Sargent Salon of Hair Styling. We then circled over the undertaking firm of Kay and Cashman, whose slogan was,

"Die now while the weather is nice,

When the ground gets hard we jack up the price."

We learned that Helen Mooradkanian's School for Latin Lovers was quite a success, and were delighted to hear that Corinne Smith had been chosen "Miss North Andoveria." She had recently been awarded a contract with the exclusive Annaloro Advertising Agency.

With our tour of the planet North Andoveria completed, we bade farewell to our friends and returned once again to civilization.

Respectfully,
Dotty and Skip

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1955, still possessing our physical and mental attributes which were so generously bestowed on us at birth, do hereby ordain and establish this, our last will and testament.

To the faculty we leave sincere gratitude for their guidance and advice through our four years of school.

Lorraine Kozdras leaves her lady-like ways and willingness to work to Bernice Florin who, by the way, really doesn't need it.

Dottie Hoessler bequeaths her enormous wardrobe to Pat Buchan. With your own and Dottie's you'll be the best dressed girl in town.

Ann Doherty and Maureen Cushing will their ability to drive any teacher crazy in five minutes to Carol Marland.

To Nancy West goes Ida Mammino's jeep. Drive carefully, Nancy.

Margy Kay and Gail Ambiehl leave their quiet, blushing ways to Anita Darveau.

On Frances Broderick is bestowed Rosemary Cashman's nickname "Tiger" and her ability on the basketball court. Take it easy on the girls, Frannie.

Barb Driscoll and Moe Smith leave their nice, white uniforms and position as head cheerleaders to Martha Roberts and Gilda Nardi. Be sure to keep the kids on the go.

Elsie Thomas wills her luscious collection of sweaters to Janet Bamford. You lucky girl!

Jeanne Giard and Charlotte West gladly bequeath their position as everybody's secretary to Barb Wood. Be prepared, Barb.

To Sheila Hardiman go Carolyn Hawkes' and Pat O'Neill's witty sayings and their good humor.

Gerry Forgetta gladly gives Pat Hogan a few inches of her height. Now you'll be the tallest girl in school, Pat.

Dot Weingart wills her ability to outargue anyone to Joan McDuffie. Put it to good use, Joan.

Janet Haight and Jeanne Moran leave their long walks to Angela Medici.

To Betty Hearty go Joan Valliere's and Helen Mooradkian's willingness and ability to make posters for almost every affair held at N.A.H.S.

Dawn Pavledakes wills her knack on how to hold a man to Mary Bernardini, although Mary has a knack of her own.

To Nancy Wainwright goes Kathy Ventrillo's technique on hair styles. You'll have a new one for every week, Nancy.

Irene Lomazzo and Kay Mellian leave their many rides in Irene's car to Nancy Pendlebury and Virginia Briguglio. Have fun, kids.

On Virginia Foster is bestowed some of Helen Marie McCarthy's vivaciousness.

Ruth Fessenden wills her knack of making sundaes to Alice Shapecott. Take it easy on the whipped cream, Alice.

Jane Sargent and Joan Tanski leave their sincere friendship to Edith Stott and Carol Weigel.

To Meline Kasparian, Priscilla Marrs wills her long talks beside her locker. Make use of this, Meline.

Sally Zahn wills her ability to get into more mischief than ten people to Norma Roberts. Just take it easy, Norma.

Theresa and Barbara Hamel leave their quiet but friendly manner to Joyce Hayes.

Joan Houldsworth sadly bequeaths her pictures of Marlon Brando to Janice Paradis.

To Florence Finn, Margaret Maeklin leaves her endless hours working in the library. Do a good job, Florence.

Joan Boyle and Dianne Riedel leave their pleasing personalities and Ipana smiles to Josephine Caimi.

Jessie McIntosh is bequeathed Peg Canty's position as official door shutter in English 4-2. Think you can handle it, Jessie?

Norma Ackroyd and Pat Dineen leave their wonderful way with children to Marguerite McGuire.

Ann Crawford leaves her musical ability to Phyllis Thomson. Now you'll just have to join the band, Phyllis.

On Joan Verda is bestowed Maryann Tymvakiewiz's ability to out-talk anyone. Look out, girls.

To Kathleen McLaughlin, Marilyn Smith bequeaths her book on how to take a time test and talk at the same time. Do you think you can do it, too?

To Ted Snell goes Bob Kellan's position as best daneer. Now you can show Arthur Murray a few steps, Ted.

To Leo Axtin goes Walter Stamp's charecoal and pink shoes. Here's hoping you have Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Leo!

Gerry Smith reluctantly bestows on Ben Kalinowski his appreciation of food. "No one can eat like that Smith kid!"

Dick Killen leaves Bob Hollins his tennis racket and style. This, added to your own, Bob, leaves you ready for the pros.

To Elliot Palmer, Jack Haley, and Charlie Buchanan goes Ernie Harvey's secret formula for going steady. Good luck, boys!

Dave Hallsworth bequeaths his book entitled "What To Do in Detention Periods" to Bob MacArthur, Tom Hamilton, and Don Elliot. Let's hope that you never get a chance to use it.

To Moc Foulds goes Vinnic DiMario's way with the girls. Hope it serves you as well, Moe.

Bill Salemme leaves Louie Dctora and Jackie Lyon his after-the-dance stops at Val's. Don't stop on the way, boys!

Chuck Annaloro bequeaths his wardrobe to Bob Ela and Howard Ratcliffe. Girls, if you believe that clothes make the man . . . Watch out!

Bestowed on Barry Crain are Bob Boutilier's academic ability and his gentlemanly ways. Honor Society, here he comes!

Franny Gillick and Larry Corcoran team up to pass their agility on the high court to Norm Heinze and Denny Currier. One tournament coming up!

To Bob Abbott goes Kenny Rapacz's "shocking" socks. Here's hoping you've either got long pant legs or high shoes, Bob!

Jack McDowell's "prowl" car is hereby bestowed on Jimmy Norwood. Happy hunting, Jim.

To Wayne Pavledakes goes Dick Nicosia's amiable personality. You have the best there, Wayne. Use it always.

Martin Kilecourse and Jimmy Walsh are the recipients of Danny Doiron's mischievous ways. My advice to the faculty is . . . look out!

To Dave Trombly and Jimmy Dunn go Ron Noone's love for the conventional. With this attitude, boys, you can never go wrong.

To neutralize Billy White's vivacity, we add Allen Mitchell's quiet ways. Remember, Bill — moderation.

Charlie Kettinger steps off the throne as king of the gridiron and passes his experiences on to Chuck Hutchins and Sam Galvagna. Boys, let's chalk up last year's record as the calm before the storm.

To Ben Farnum goes Dick Cole's physics notebook. If you can decipher it, Ben, you're sure to be a "lovely" student.

Hi Connell's musical ability, coupled with his love for the modern jazz with all its "crazy" sounds, is hereby bestowed on Dave Green. Move over, this Cat's" coming in.

To Billy Ritchie goes Bob Wileox's craze for ears. One more "cowboy" on the loose!

Roland Russell's diverse ambitions are left to Ray Chadwick and Dave McCoy. With these added to your own initiative, boys, you will certainly get things done next year.

To Pete Houde and Bill Greenler goes Bob Holleran's hearty laugh. Use it tactfully, boys, and you'll never regret having it.

John Glennie leaves his decisiveness to Richard Moody and Joe Sullivan. You will find this trait invaluable to you in the future, boys.

To George Hopping go Ray Maynard's quiet and amiable ways. Take advantage of them, George, and you'll be a cherished addition to your class.

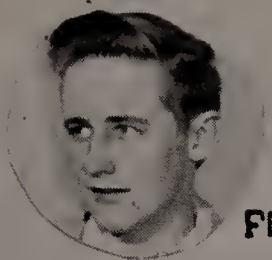

To Bev Nichol go Corinne Smith's nice looks, personality, and clothes. What more could you ask for?!!

To North Andover High School we, the Class of 1955, leave our promise to do our best to add to the already enviable reputation of this unexcelled institution.

In conclusion, we leave hoping that this will be taken as it was written — all in fun.

Respectfully submitted,

Corinne and Bob

JUNIORS

Those elected to lead the junior class as officers were as follows:

President

Norman Heinze

Vice-President

Dennis Currier

Secretary-Treasurer

Frances Broderick

Normie Heinze was elected to the presidency of his class for the first time and did a fine job.

The following juniors, in addition to the class officers, were chosen to serve as members of the 1955 Prom Committee: Patricia Buchan, Gilda Nardi, and Samuel Galvagna.

Homeroom representatives were elected to the following rooms: Charles Hutchins, Room 19; Louis Detora, Room 20; Raymond Chadwick, Room 18.

FRESHMEN

The officers of the first freshman class at our new high school were:

President

Vice-President

Secretary-Treasurer

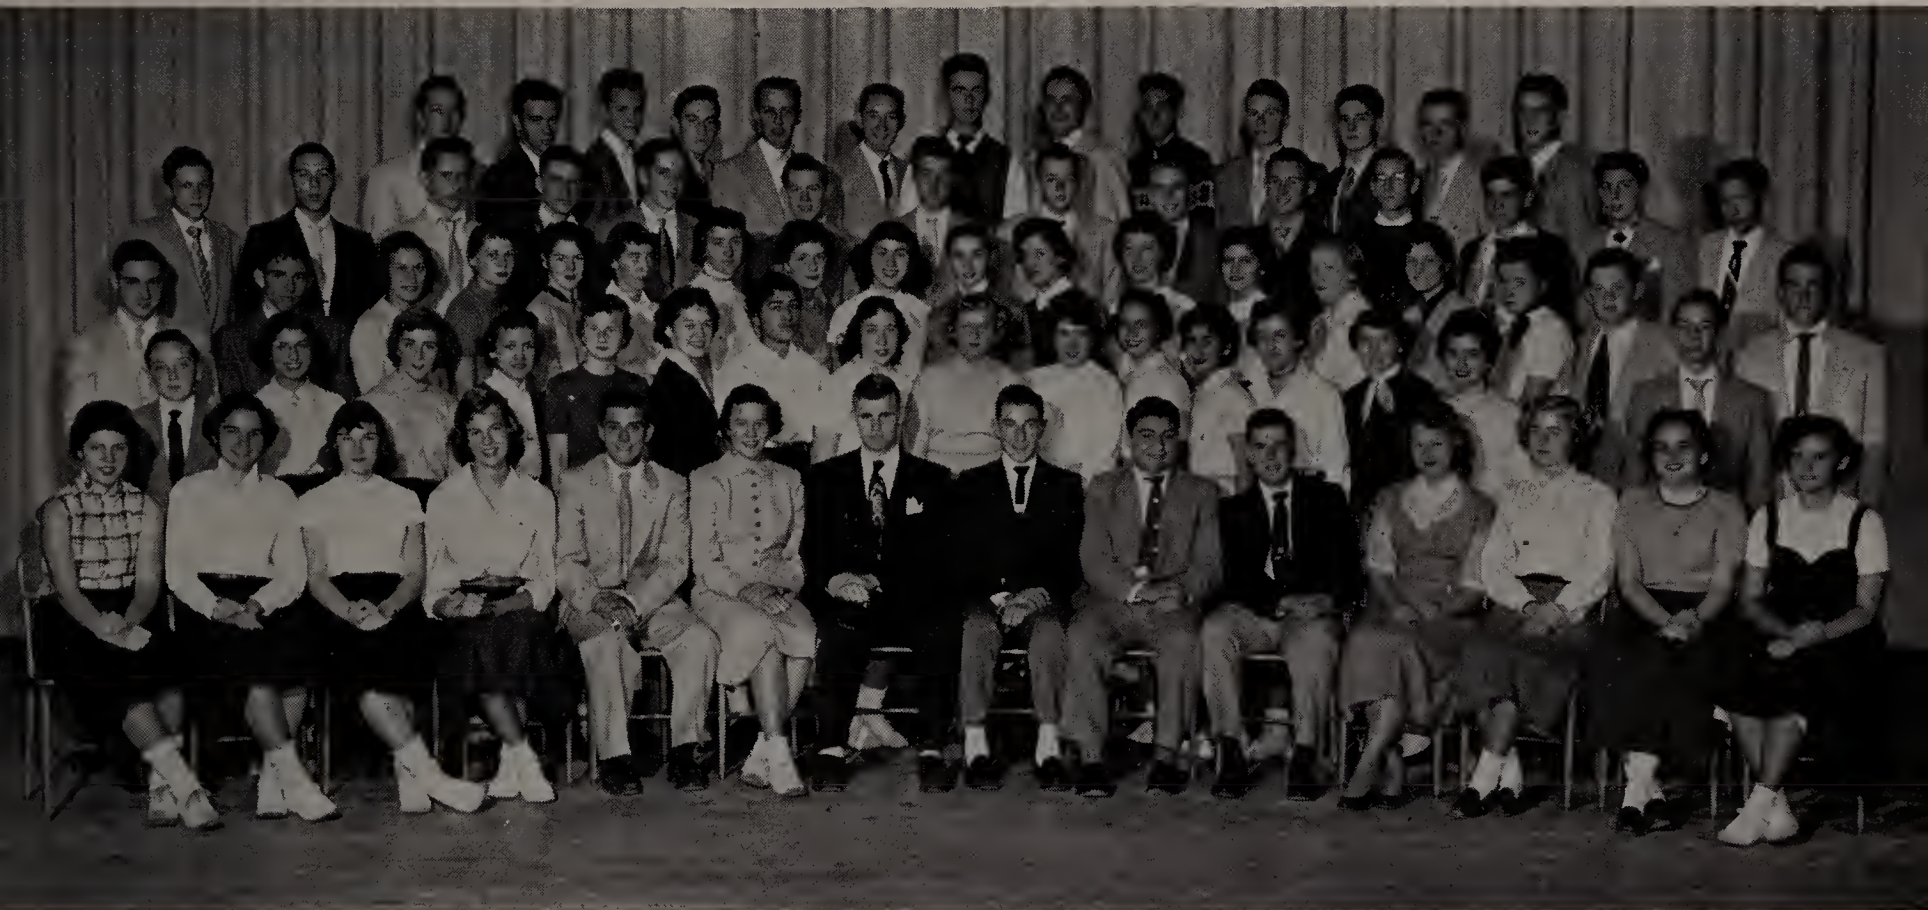

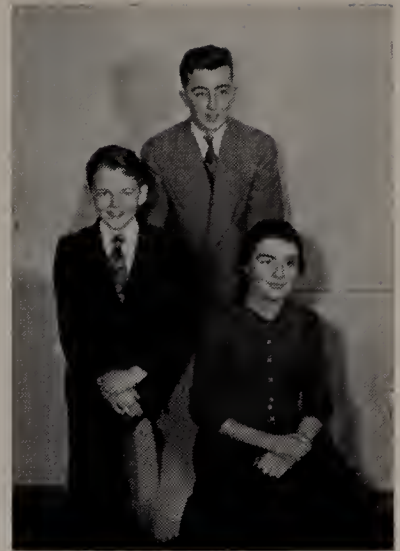

Michael Greenler

John Minihan

Carole Parker

The freshmen had a very successful year and showed their ambition and school spirit by their willingness to take active part in all extra-curricular activities and by their outstanding performances in sports and other school activities.

The following class members served as homeroom representatives: Joan Robertson, Room 4; Andrew Zigelis, Room 33; E. Laurence Colby, Jr., Room 34; Janet Drummey, Room 37; Richard Lange, Room 14.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomore class chose as its officers:

President

Vice-President

Secretary-Treasurer

Robert Harris

Judith Tetler

Susan Lodge

Bob Harris has ably led his class for the second year. The sophomores have helped a great deal to make the school activities a success.

Those chosen as homeroom representatives were Louise Mooradian, Room 32; Judith Knightly, Room 38; Adele Bullock, Room 39; Clare Towler, Room 40.

One of the major achievements of the Student Council was the establishment of a social calendar for the school year.

Through the efforts of many members of the Council, the spectators at all basketball games were provided with Coke and potato chips, the profits from which are to go toward the costs of school assembly programs for next year.

A successful dance was held on April 15 in the gymnasium. The officers headed the committees which were composed of all Council members.

The Council was also responsible for having a very interesting school assembly program put on under the auspices of the Boston Museum of Science.

New members inducted into the society at an assembly conducted March 30, after this picture was taken, were the following girls, who are all members of the sophomore class: Laura Curtis, Judith Knightly, Alice Miller, Louise Mooradkanian and Judith Tetler.

On November 2 the officers and Miss Cook went to Haverhill to induct new members into the Honor Society at that school.

On January 28 a very successful dance was held in the gymnasium. The officers headed the committee composed of the members of the Society.

During the past year Honor Society members have been assisting Miss Gillen in the tutoring system she has established in the school.

On June 8 our Society was host to the Honor Societies of Haverhill, Methuen and Andover at a get-together held at our high school. The aims, purposes and accomplishments of our Society were discussed by our officers, after which the visiting members were taken on a tour of our school. Refreshments were served, and the meeting ended with dancing in the cafeteria.

Bob Kellan, editor of this year's High-Lites, acted as our representative at the annual meeting of the New England Scholastic Press Association in Boston on November 12 and 13, 1954. On behalf of the staff, he accepted a certificate for excellence in editorial and general make-up given to the 1954 Journal. The Journal was one of four magazines, out of some two hundred entries from prep and high schools throughout all of New England, to receive this award.

At the beginning of this year a contest sponsored by the staff of the Johnson Journal was conducted for the purpose of giving a new name to our quarterly magazine, as our school name had already been changed. Bruce Crauer, a freshman, submitted the winning entry titled North Andover High-Lites, and won a free subscription to the school magazine for this year.

During the past year the band played at all the football games, took part in the dedication exercises of the high school, played for the annual school play and graduation, and participated in three parades.

At the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival, which took place in Beverly, the band received an "A" rating in its class at the auditions. During the year several successful concerts were presented by the band.

SPORTS

CHEERLEADERS

This year's cheerleaders gave a fine performance, cheering at both basketball and football games. The head cheerleaders, in their new white uniforms, and the rest of the squad, wearing the school colors, provided the necessary pep and vigor at these sports events.

The head cheerleaders were Barbara Driscoll and Maureen Smith. The other members of the squad were Corinne Smith, Maureen Cushing, Ann Doherty, Geraldine Forgetta, Janet Haight, Roberta Bamford, Gilda Nardi and Martha Roberts.

Best of luck to next year's squad whose head cheerleaders will be Gilda Nardi and Martha Roberts!

This year we welcomed track as the latest addition to our expanding sports program. Mr. Howard Crozier acted as head coach. Though young, track fast became very popular with the students of N.A.H.S.

We wish continued success to next year's team and all the teams that follow, hoping that they will maintain the fine record that this year's team has established.

The football team acquired two new coaches this year. Mr. Howard Crozier is in his first year as head coach at N.A.H.S., as is Mr. William Larochele, who is acting as his assistant.

It is certainly true that a team can not be judged by the number of games it has won, for though our team did not chalk up an impressive record, it displayed fine sportsmanship and teamwork throughout the season.

We wish to congratulate Chuck Hutchins who was elected captain of next year's team.

This year Mr. William Larochele was appointed the new baseball coach. Under his excellent leadership and training the team chalked up a fine record of nine wins and seven losses.

We wish next year's team continued success and hope they carry on the example of fine teamwork and fair play exhibited by the baseball team of 1955.

We Salute You!

Congratulations and the best of luck! We at Loring are proud of the part we have had in helping to make your classbook a permanent reminder of your school years, recording with photographs one of the happiest and most exciting times of your life! We hope that, just as you have chosen us as your class photographer, you will continue to think of Loring Studios when you want photographs to help you remember other momentous days to come! When you choose Loring portraits, you are sure of the finest craftsmanship at the most moderate prices!
